Board of Aldermen Strike Out Passengers Buying Ticket and Word Physician Wherever Found in Tax Bill.

Ordinance, As Amended, Now , Goes Back to Common Council.

The adjourned special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, to finish consideration esterday afternoon, and several amendnents to the ordinance as it passed the otable one being that offered by Mr. from all license taxes.

The Board met promptly at 5 o'clock, with sixteen members in their seats, enough to do business. Major Otway S. Allen, the newly elected member from Madison Ward, who had already been sworn in by Clerk Ben T. August, appeared and took his seat. He was cordially welcomed by President Turpin.

The Board took up the tax ordinance where it left off Tuesday night, and quickly amended section eight; making the pawnbrokers' license $300, instead of $400.

GIVE THE GOVERNOR

Presentation Will Be Made By Members of His Military Staff This Evening.

The members of Governor Montague's staff have had made for presentation to His Excellency to-night at the Manslon, a beautiful loving cup, as a token of the esteem in which they hold their Chief. The cup is a very handsome and costly affair, and is beautifully and appropriately engraved.

On one side is this inscription: "His Excellency, Andrew Jackson Montague, Governor of Virginia, January 1st, 1902, February 1st, 1906."

On another side is a Montague coat of arms, and on still another, the names

arms, and on still another, the names

The ceremonies incident to the presen-ation will take place at the Mansion at 129 o'clock this evening, and it is ex-pected that all the staff officers of the lovernor will be present. It is not definitely known who will make the presentation speech, nor, indeed, that there will be any extended remarks, but it is thought some member will formally present the cup, and that His Excellency will respond.

FLUTISTS MUST NOT KISS OR SMOKE

Kissing, the use of tobacco and indulgence in intoxicants are equally disastrout to the ambitions of the flutist, according to John J. Cafarelli, a Milwaukee mission of experience, saye the Milwaukee Sentinel."

"Buscles of a flutist's mouth are tendered a degree, or they are sensitive, that is the word," said Mr. Caferelli. "They are trained to the action necessary to the performance with the flute, but at the same time they are much more sensitive than the ordinary muscles. "Tobacco and intoxicants absolutely unfit the player for his work, as they make the muscles of the mouta so flably and limp they cannot perform their necessary and difficult work."

LE GALLIENNE SORRY

Itichard Le Gallienne once went to a publication office to get a check which was due him for an article, says the San Francisco "Argonaut." "I'm sorry," said the cashier, but I shall have to disappoint you to-day. The checks are made out, but they are without the signature of our manager. He is ill with the gout." "Extend him my sympathies," murmured Mr. Le Gaillenne; "it must be very trying for him to be so disabled. I infor that he signs his checks with his feet."

pany, is on an inspection trip, at the president of the Richmond Fredericksburg & Potomac, and Washington-Southern, was out of the city yesterday,

In deciding that a Pullnan passenger who was promised and had paid for a lower berth which he did not receive, is entitled to more damages than the mere recovery of his Pullman fare, the Appellate Court of New York says; "Public policy also requires that a liberal rule of damages should be accorded the plaintiff in such a case. If the damages are in such case to be limited to the cost of the ticket, not only will the traveling public be seriously inconvenienced and annoyed, but it would lead to the resale of tickets for gratuties tendered by subsequent applicants and result in the utmost confusion. The sleeping car company has notice of every element of damages that a traveler is liable to encounter in such circumstances. For the indignity inflicted upon the passenger in the presence of other passengers by being refused a berth which he had purchased, and by being obliged to leave the sleeping car, and for the inconvenience and annoyance which he suffers by being obliged to travel in a day coach without sleeping or washing facilities, and being obliged to change cars at early and late hours, he should be compensated. Although the decisions on this point are not rully in accord, the trend of judicial authority is that these are elements of damage for which recovery may be had."

Announcement is made by officials of the Southern Railway that the Asheville Fouthern was chartered in North Carolina for local development in the interest of the former system. Engineers have begun a survey for the line, including connection from Asheville to Johnson City, Tenn.

GETTING READY FOR THE COMING GOVERNOR

Plans Are Being Perfected for New Executive's Inauguration.

By easy stages the plans for Governorelect Claude A. Swanson's inauguration are being perfected, and by the first of the week they will be in good shape.
It has been determined that Hon, Stafford G. Whittle, of the State Supreme Court, and a long time friend of the new Governor, will administer the oath and that prayer will be offered by Rev. J.
Sidney Peters, of the Methodist Church, another friend of the Swansons, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Swanson, of Danville, the former a brother of the Governor, will attend the ceremonies, as will Messrs, Henry and William Swanson, two other brothers. A large number of the Governor's personal and political friends from various sections of the State will likewise be here.
Owing to the advanced age of Mr. Swanson's father who is now seventy-six years old, he cannot attend, and Mr. Swanson's sister will be detained at home with her father.
Governor Swanson will receive his friends, members of the Legislature,
State and city officers and such others as may desire to call at the mansion from 2 to 4 P. M., and in the evening he will be tendered a reception by LieutenantGovernor Ellyson at the latter's home, Mr. Swanson will not arrive here from Washington until next Tuesday.
